Our case studies highlight how Information Technology (IT) can be used to enhance your competitive position through reduced costs, improved operational efficiencies and higher levels of customer service.

Case Study: Remote Connectivity

See how an organization with many remote offices is no longer competitive and manual consolidation of information is costly and time consuming.

Client Situation

A large organization had difficulty consolidating information from their 20 remote offices. The organization was no longer competitive and the costs to manually consolidate information were escalating.

Client Problem

Remote locations complained of problems getting the information to the head office. Some locations were on dial-up connections while others had high speed connectivity with no security in place.

SoftwareUnlimited Solution

SoftwareUnlimited's Manage IT service designed and developed a network infrastructure capable of supporting the current and anticipated transaction volumes. Our Integrate IT service provided high speed Internet access to the organization's remote locations. Our Secure IT service provided secure Virtual Private Network (VPN) connectivity to the remote offices. Our Configure IT service provided customized support services for the local and remote offices.

Client Benefit

The organization was able to reduce costs by eliminating the need to manually consolidate transactions. The organization enhanced its competitiveness through more timely information. The company receives timely support, increased efficiency and reduced costs.
